

Overcoming the Weekend Warrior Trap

Building Consistency for Real Long Term Growth

LIVE TRAINING: <https://youtu.be/p6D6x5WaoFw?si=SB6UUBuQs9OmAa1U>

What is a Weekend Warrior?

- On track 4-5 days each week
 - Let the weekend undo good work
 - Repeats the cycle
-

Why It Feels Good (At First)

- Rewards themselves after a long week - 'ah sure its the weekend'
- Weekend is viewed as days of rest (days that don't count)

The Real Problem

- No clarity around what to do at the weekend
- Decision fatigue - you don't want to make decision so it's easy to go with the flow
- No weekend system
- Act like a different person at weekend - living with 2 x identity
- Underestimates the impact of 2 days 'off' every month = 25-30% of entire month

The issue isn't effort—it's inconsistency. Success comes from repeated actions, not occasional bursts.

The Cycle

1. No identity over the weekend
2. Fall off the wagon because you have no structure
3. Feel Guilty and Restart again monday
4. Restriction rebound leads to over compensate. You might be too strict during the week

If this looks familiar, you're not alone. The goal is to break this PATTERN.

Root Causes

- Routine is different - no usual work schedule
 - Different wake up and bed times
 - Different types of meals
 - More social distractions
 - Lack of clarity in the identity of being a healthy and fit man 365
 - All-or-nothing mindset
 - Lack of systems at weekend - easy to let things slip
-

Key Shift #1 – Change Your Belief About The Weekend

‘The weekend are the 2 best days to take care of myself’

- Small daily actions across 7 days beat big occasional ones
- Remove the All of Nothing element of sat and sun by viewing your weekend as your best days to train or exercise
- Understand that the 8 days of the 30 of the month make up over 25% of your results

Doing 20 minutes daily is more powerful than 3 hours once a week.

Key Shift #2 – Lower the Bar

- Make habits easy to start at the weekend - commit to 15 mins instead of an hour
- Take care of yourself in the morning
- Focus on minimum viable effort - gear 1 and gear 2 (water, steps, sleep)

Examples:

- 10 push-ups instead of a full workout
- 15 minutes of work instead of 2 hours

Make it so easy you can't say no.

Key Shift #3 – Build Weekend Systems

- 2 high quality meals every day
- Drink 2.5 litres of water every day
- Be in bed by 11 and up by 7
- Walk for 60 mins over the weekend
- Have Accountability on Sunday morning
- Create a family weekend routine
- Remove decision-making by thinking ahead
- Plan on the amount of alcoholic drinks you will have

Discipline becomes easier when you don't have to think every time.

Build Momentum

- Track small wins
- Celebrate consistency
- Focus on streaks

Progress builds confidence—and confidence builds discipline.

5 Simple Non Negotiables Things to Tap Into Being A Healthy and Fit Man At Weekends

- ☐ Drink 2.5 litres of water both days
- ☐ Walk for 30 mins Sat and 30 mins on Sunday
- ☐ Be in bed by 11pm
- ☐ Eat 2 healthy meals on Sat and Sunday
- ☐ Do 30 mins of physical exercise on one of those days